

URGE TEAM WORK BY ALL CHURCHES

Open Interchurch World
Movement at Motor Club Luncheon.

Dr. Lyman Pierson Powell, noted educator and prominently connected with the interchurch world movement spoke at the noon luncheon of the state auto club at Hotel Tulsa yesterday. Dr. Powell spoke on the subject of Christian idealism and moral mission, as a means of curing the ills of the world.

"The interchurch world movement is not a merging of the churches, neither is it a combination, he said, what it really is, is co-operation of the 22 different denominations accomplished in such a way that the movement will not take away from the individual churches in the later days of the war, when the church is being called upon to do its duty in the world."

Dr. Powell is a man of international note being a friend of King Albert of Belgium and also of Cardinal Mercier. He is a former president of Hobart and Williams Smith colleges. He came here as the leader of a team of speakers one of the such who are covering the country and speaking before the 125 civic organizations in behalf of the interchurch movement.

A. E. Boyd of Kansas City made the introductory remarks in connection with the interchurch movement. He compared the churches formerly as a 32 cylinder engine with more than a billion horsepower which were running frequently and thus caused great loss of power. "The new movement will not take away from the individual churches in the later days of the war, when the church is being called upon to do its duty in the world."

R. H. Miller, of Kansas City also spoke on the movement. He said that we must educate the ignorant not only materially but spiritually. The reason the Mohammedans and other religions made such head way in the Orient, he explained, was that all their missionaries talked alike, while the Christian missionaries all made a different interpretation of the Bible.

"We are entering a revolution and whether we go through it by peacefully, murder and bloodshed, or over the mountain tops of truth and light and sacrifice depends upon us," he said. "Either way that we have in the world will come out a better, cleaner world than it was in, but if we go the way of the anarchist, the murderer, and the bloodshed, we shall see our civilization tumble at the feet of men, and it will take many years to rebuild it."

The club passed a resolution endorsing the action of the Executive National Bank in absorbing the losses caused by the recent bank failure, and thus saving the depositors.

OPPOSE INTER-CHURCH

Rev. W. O. Anderson Will Assail New Religious Movement From His Pulpit Next Sunday.

Rev. W. O. Anderson, pastor of the First Baptist church, will speak against the interchurch world movement in a sermon entitled, "The Interchurch World Movement, The Ecclesiastical Fifth Wheel," to be delivered at the service Sunday evening.

Mr. Anderson yesterday characterized the interchurch movement as an unnecessary expenditure of time, money and effort.

"The interchurch movement was self-initiated by a few men," Mr. Anderson declared. "No denomination fathered it. I understand that $10,000,000 dollars have been borrowed for running expenses of the organization, thus taking money that might have been put into legitimate service."

The southern Baptist national convention refused to join the interchurch movement and resolutions condemning it have been passed at a number of state conventions, he said.

TO ACT ON EVANS OFFER

American Legion at Next Meeting
Will Pass on Proposal

Action on the proposal of Mayor-elect T. D. Evans that Joe Carson head of the American legion select 100 names from its membership to serve as voluntary emergency police under the city administration, will be taken at the next regular meeting of the most one week from next Wednesday night, according to John Rogers, local post commander. "I have not discussed the matter with any members of the legion and am not prepared to say whether they will accept the invitation or not. I do not know how they will feel about it," Rogers said. He thought it unnecessary to call a special meeting of the post to consider the proposition at this time.

Sonora Rebellion Is Making Tulsa Woman Worry Over Husband

News about the turmoil in the "new republic" of Sonora, Old Mexico, is of more than casual interest to Mrs. C. B. Glascock, Hotel Tulsa, whose husband is in La Balsa, Sonora. Mrs. Glascock has not heard from her husband since difficulties with Carranza began in Sonora.

Mr. Glascock, who is in the oil business, came to Tulsa with his wife about five months ago from their home in Yuma, Ariz. About 60 miles from Yuma is La Balsa, near which Mr. Glascock has 300 acres of land leased from the district of Sonora. Mr. Glascock went to La Balsa about two weeks ago to engage Yaqui Indians and Mexican peons to plant cotton on the leased land.

There has been no trouble in Sonora heretofore, according to Mrs. Glascock. "We have not heard back and forth from our home in Yuma, La Balsa a number of times and have always felt secure," she said. "Perhaps we have been over-confident."

Mrs. Glascock said that her husband leased his land from Governor Calles, whose nephew is in charge of a Mexican garrison near La Balsa.

MEYER IN C. OF C. JOB

New Industry Department of Chamber of Commerce Will Be In Hands of Barney Meyer.

Barney Meyer of Tulsa was elected industrial commissioner of the chamber of commerce at the weekly luncheon of directors at Hotel Tulsa yesterday noon. The investigation committee, headed by M. C. Hale, reported that the applications of both Mr. Meyer and a Kansas City man had been considered, and recommended the appointment of Meyer.

The new official of the chamber of commerce heads a new department. His duties will relate closely to the industrial situation in and around Tulsa. He is to gather industrial statistics and present them to industries which are sought for this territory or which ask for information.

Mr. Meyer during his residence in Tulsa has been a close observer of industrial conditions. He has been tentatively engaged for six months, and is to receive $2,000 for this period.

ASK DAMAGES ON CONTRACT

Owner of Store Claims Defendants
Refused to Buy Fixtures.

Asking damages of $500 because of the alleged failure of W. R. Cartwright, M. Lane Cooper and others to purchase the store fixtures at 17 East Third street for the sum of $2,000 under a written contract suit was filed in superior court yesterday by Charles A. Bliss.

Bliss claims the defendants agreed to purchase the store on condition the lease on the building could be extended two years. This was accomplished, according to the petition, but Cartwright and his associates have since refused to pay the money for the store.

Only Three Running for School Board

There will be no primaries in the school board election this year. E. E. Oberholzer announced last night. "There were only two vacancies," he said, and there have been only three men filed, two for position number seven and one for number one."

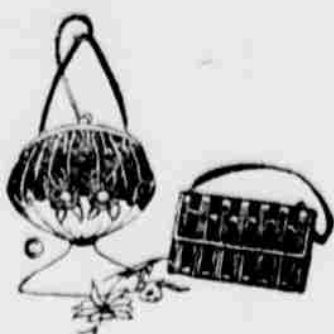

Orta E. Upp, filed for number one, and W. A. Marks and R. S. Fellows for number seven. R. R. Lockwood and E. S. Fellows are the men going out. Fellows is running for re-election. The election will be held the third Tuesday in May, May 18th.
